Air Freight

Cargo International has close connections with international airlines and global connections with trusted agents through the ICL network to offer timely, reliable and cost effective air freight solutions. We clear your inbound air consignments and deliver it to your doorstep, saving you time, labour and money. Our air freight operations cover the Indian subcontinent, Asia, Africa, Europe, the Middle East and the Far East.

Sea Freight

Cargo International has full fledged operations in the area of sea freight in India. With connections to ICL and its warehousing as well as international network of agents, we offer superior, coherent, vastly organized and well managed sea freight services for Indian exporters and importers. Whether it is full container loads (FCL), less than container load (LCL) or break bulk service to any destination in the world, you can trust us to deliver exceptionally high standard of service at affordable costs.

Project Forwarding

Cargo International has a special Project Forwarding division that helps upcoming industries and project managers in India with comprehensive project forwarding solutions at competitive rates. We offer full advisory and handling services that start at the planning level, include budgeting and costing and go on to the final delivery at the destination, even offering process start up services. Project forwarding involves crating, packing, surface transportation, container loading and all related services.

Consolidation

Cargo consolidation immeasurably helps clients, easing their workload, relieving them of time and manpower constraints while facilitating cargo movement and inventory control. If you import or export in less than container loads, you can leave all your cargo management worries to us. Our operations cover China, India, Middle East and the United Kingdoms.

Your perfect partner for consolidation

The name you can rely upon for third party logistics

Third Party Logistics

Following the model in use by ICL at its UK facilities, Cargo International now brings the same level of reliable and cost effective storage as well as distribution services for Indian clientele, reducing operational costs and driving business as well as profits for them. With their backing and support and our local team's expertise in multi-model transportation, logistics, cargo handling and back end IT support to track cargo movements online, we are on the path to becoming the leading third party logistic support provider in India.
